Rebecca Lightstone

We vainly wrestle with the blind belief that aught we cherish
Can ever quite pass out of utter grief and wholly perish.

—Robert Frost

Some will remember Rebecca Lightstone as a student at Long Beach High; others will remember her as a teacher; but all will remember her as a vibrant young woman with a wonderful smile. In twenty four years, Miss Lightstone found something that many do not find in three times twenty four—she discovered the vital force that is life, and she lived it with hope and enthusiasm, and left it with courage and strength. It is inconceivable that one so intense and alive could ever "wholly perish" from the world in which she lived, or the hearts of those who knew her. It is to the living memory of Rebecca Lightstone that we dedicate ECHO 1965.

ADMINISTRATION

My dear Graduates,

It gives me distinct pleasure to extend congratulations and best wishes to the graduating class of 1965. Each class, like each individual, is unique. Lasting impressions are garnered in high school by each student and will last a lifetime.

As graduates you have individually and collectively established creditable records of participation and scholarship in a broad spectrum of endeavor. As students you approach life's great school knowing these experiences will fortify and comfort you.

The future promises to be a challenge. At the same time prospects are most encouraging. I am certain that the new life faced by each of you as graduates will be rewarding and pleasant.

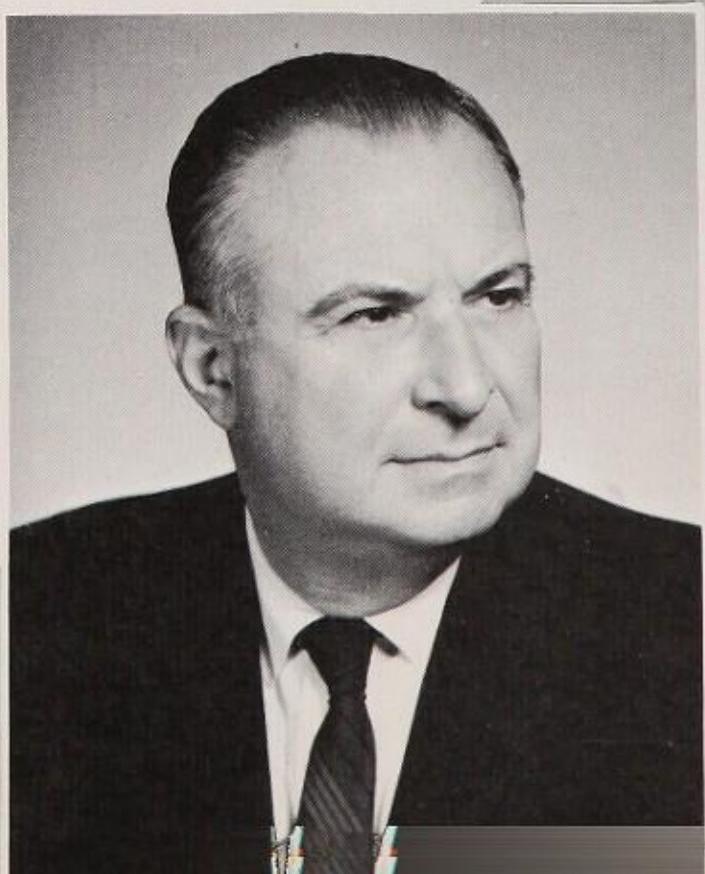

Most sincerely

Earl F. Soper,
Superintendent of Schools

In language, the alphabet is the fundamental rudiment from which totally successful methods of communication have been derived. To achieve the ultimate goals, Long Beach High School also needs a backbone of strength and leadership. Because of the sincere interest and meaningful assistance that our Administration has offered, each individual in the senior class has been given the opportunity to grow to the fullest of his capacities.

Dr. Earl F. Soper,
Superintendent of Schools

Dr. Joseph A. Kuhn,
Associate Superintendent of Schools

Dr. Norman Schwartz,
Principal

Dear Graduates,

The great American thinker, Ralph Waldo Emerson, described the scholar as "that man who must take up unto himself all the ability of the time, all the contributions of the past, all the hopes of the future." The secrets of wisdom through the ages have been passed on by way of the printed word. The members of the Class of '65 have long since forgotten their first amazed reactions in piecing together letters to form words, and words to form concepts. Your yearbook theme most appropriately highlights the letters of the alphabet, the keys to the wisdom of the world. You are ready now to use them wisely and well for the benefit of a waiting world.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Left to right: Manny Zisser, Vice President; Dr. Jerome P. Murtha, Dr. Earl F. Soper, Superintendent; Seymour Pestronk, President; Mrs. Hannah Komanoff, Dr. George L. Fersh.

Dear Graduates;

As I look into my crystal ball, I see the following in your world:

Automation and a vastly changed technology will have transformed our present quaint methods of production of food, industrial products and all manner of creature comforts.

Our sense of time and distance will have altered to the point that our nation will be our neighborhood and our world will be our community.

The young men and women of tomorrow will be literate, multilingual, world-travelled and will be reluctant to remain on this planet but will demand the opportunity to seek their future elsewhere in space . . . the nation will face a severe manpower shortage of intelligent and technically prepared personnel.

To the youth of today, I say get all the higher education you can absorb. You will need all that and more too, to compete in tomorrow's world.

Sincerely,
Seymour Pestronk, President

is for DEMOCRACY

G.O. officers

Democracy is the privilege of government of, by, and for the people, and our student body, like the nation of which it is part, has this same privilege. The G.O., like our federal government, is representative of the entire student body through the election of its officers and representatives. With an executive council assisting the president as our federal cabinet does, and a committee system similar to that of our Congress, the G.O. plans, organizes, and executes all school functions. The Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Classes also have their own representative governments for the purpose of promoting the unity and spirit of their respective classes. It is through our democratic student governments that every student is given an equal voice in the planning of school activities, and, on a smaller scale, the opportunity to partake in one of our nation's greatest privileges—the freedom of democratic government.

Fragments Editors

The alphabet is man's means of communication, for in the words it forms, is embodied all his ideals and aspirations. Languages may differ, but man's hopes for a peaceful and enriched world are universal. FRAGMENTS, the school literary magazine, inspires students to create a "brave new world" through their poetry and prose. Creativity knows no bounds, no prejudices, for when one's imagination is unleashed, its heights are limitless. All can be overcome ...

DRAMA

Dramatic art can plumb the depths of man's despair or symbolize the height of his ecstasy—praise his nobility while savagely tearing at his baseness. At its best, drama can inspire, and enrich the mind. Its kinship to human history is readily seen in its parallel with human achievement: flourishing during enlightened times, almost dying in black times—yet never completely dead. Through drama, one form of art, man is best able to express himself and to communicate with others.

Students who excel in the field of journalism are admitted into Quill and Scroll, the International Honor Society for Journalism. Here their endeavors are applauded.

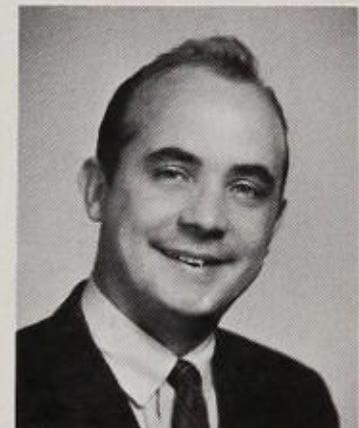

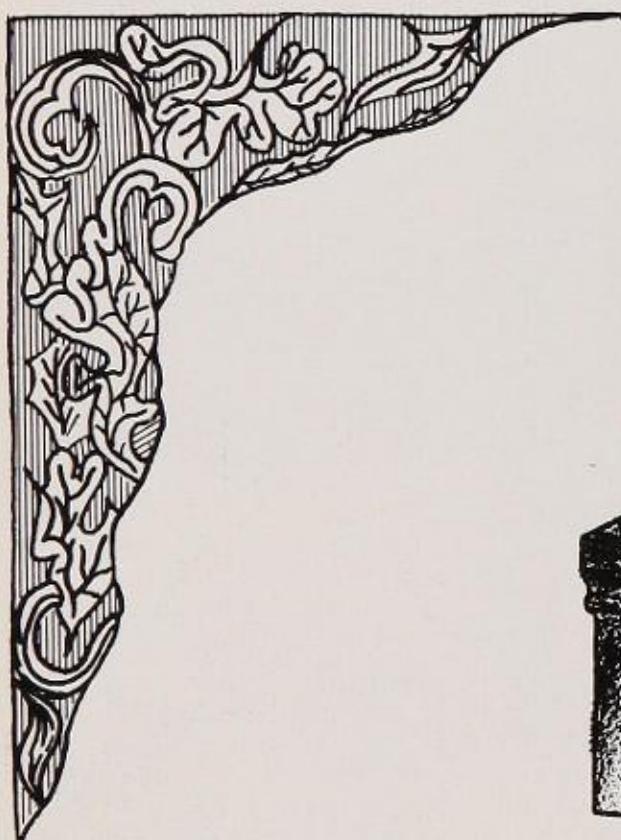

More importantly, the TIDE provides the aspiring journalist of today with the tools to become the successful journalist of tomorrow.

SPECIAL EDUCATION

Mr. Barrett

The Special Education Department of Long Beach High School provides educational opportunities in coordination with each student's ability. The director of Special Education, Mr. George Barret, is also in charge of education for the home-bound students. Because of his dedicated work, Mr. Barret deserves our thanks and our praise.

PSYCHOLOGICAL SERVICES

The Psychological Services in Long Beach High School serve a two fold purpose. The primary concern of this department is to aid students possessing emotional problems and to help them adjust academically and socially. A second service performed by the Psychological Services is the administration of examinations to discover students' potentials and strong points. Whether testing or guiding, the Psychological Services offered at L.B.H.S. contribute greatly toward the health and happiness of its students.

The boys of L.B.H.S. have invaded the Homemaking Department. This year, two chef's classes have been added to the curriculum. These boys are interested in a career in foods. Along with the chef's classes, the Home Economics Department offers its students complete and comprehensive courses in foods, clothing, interior decorating and child care. The pupils can use the knowledge they have gained in managing a happy and successful home. The ingredients provided by the students of L.B.H.S. blended together, and leavened by the Homemaking Department's special talent yield a well rounded individual.

The C.B.S., or Club for Business students, is a very important, yet often unsung facet of Long Beach High School. Quietly, surely, and successfully, it draws together those with a common interest, and a common goal. Students who plan to enter the competitive, and exciting field of business, gain the valuable experience and self-confidence that is essential in today's world. As members of the C.B.S., tomorrow's secretaries, accountants, bookkeepers, and executives are provided with a strong foundation on which to build their careers and their lives.

As ancient as recorded history, Latin still provides a solid foundation for communication. Under the gaze of faculty advisor, Mr. John Ritaccio, the members of the Latin Honor Society explore ancient history and mythology with stimulating discussions and films. Their broad and valuable background will serve as a basis for many new experiences and facilitate future endeavors.

The Honor Society has taken many field trips and has heard many guest speakers in order to delve deeper into the roots of this culturally rich language.

Mastering a different alphabet was the beginning for the students of the Russian Honor Society. In an attempt to increase their understanding, to broaden their background and to narrow the gap of language differences, they attended a Russian film presentation of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night." Accompanied by faculty advisor, Mrs. Christine Perfecky, they were able to appreciate the language spoken as it was meant to be.

Mr. Greenbaum

It is almost impossible to estimate the full extent of the influence of mathematics in the world today. Math plays a major role in our system of defense, in scientific experiments that bring our dreams of progress closer to being realities, in the construction of huge skyscrapers or private homes, in the business world, and in our everyday lives. Indeed, an individual's success in life may well be determined by his ability to think clearly and logically. The mathematics teachers of L.B.H.S. display a keen awareness of the importance of giving their students a sound foundation in mathematics and logic. They expose the students to a code of numbers to be deciphered with the aid of their knowledge and teaching skills.

Today's world is a complicated one in which computers are needed to record and store the knowledge from thousands of "brains." In such a world, knowledge of mathematics, the language of these computers, becomes increasingly important.

Math is learned in the classroom. Belonging to the math team, however, presents ways to put this knowledge to use. Under the guidance of Miss Uravic, Long Beach students match wits with students from other schools. In this way, they develop their skill in math.

For students who wish to broaden their knowledge of mathematics, there is the math club supervised by Miss Frank. Lecturers of professional stature discuss their fields of knowledge with math club members. Many times the members discuss new ideas among themselves.

Ringing in the spirit of the Holiday season, the Concert Choir, directed by Mr. Michael Maglio, blend their voices to produce melodious sounds of unequaled harmony. During such events as the Swing Show, Operetta, and Christmas Concert, these students are able to display their fine voices. Under the instruction of Mr. John Wilson, members of the Orchestra not only are able to demonstrate their musical accomplishments, but also study world-known composers and enlarge their cultural scope. We are proud of these talented students' achievements.

BAND AND MAJORETTES

Decked out in uniforms of red, white, and blue, the L.B.H.S. Band and Majorettes play and twirl their way through lively routines all year long.

The football games were not the only occasions when the forceful and spirited music of our band was heard. This well-organized group, led by Mr. John Wilson, has favorably represented our school at concerts, state wide music functions, and at the New York World's Fair.

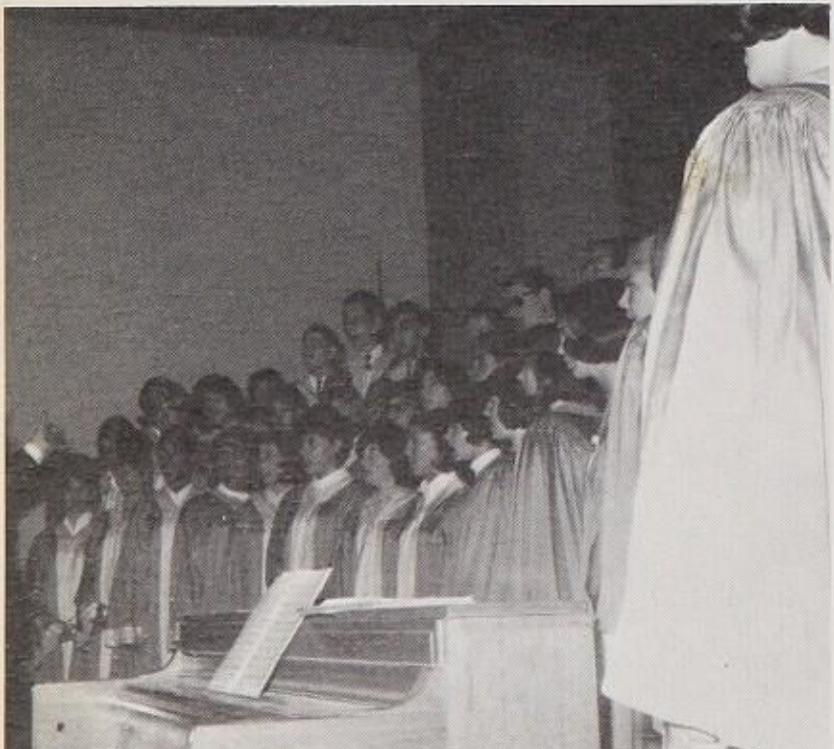

A group of 24 Majorettes, headed by Rayna Cappitelli, have consistently played a vital role in the building of school spirit. In addition to each welcome performance at the home football games, they entertained at the annual Swing Show and won acclaim for our school in competitions.

The Band and Majorettes make up a talented team which can be depended upon under any condition.

SWING SHOW

Eagerly anticipated, the annual Swing Show has become a cherished tradition of Long Beach High. This year its meaning was two-fold. As always, the students shared their talents . . . the swing band . . . the concert choir . . . vocalists . . . comedians . . . cheerleaders . . . majorettes and more. But this year, too, a man was honored. The 1965 Swing Show was dedicated to the memory of Mr. Glenn Brown, its innovator and the originator of the L.B.H.S. Swing Band several years ago.

OPERETTA

This year's operetta was the musical comedy, Best Foot Forward. The story is set at Winsocki, a boys' private school, just before Senior Prom Time. One student, Bud Hooper, accidentally invites a famous actress to be his Prom date, and the situation becomes more complicated when Bud's girl friend also comes as his date. Performances by Cheryl Straus, Billy Crystal, Cathy Tash, Lee Nelson, Steve Sabbath, and Laurie Miller were totally enjoyed by the enthusiastic audiences, none of whom will forget the wonderful presentation.

To be in Arista, the school's academic honor society, is a goal toward which students may aim for scholastic recognition.

The purpose of the Jr. N.A.A.C.P. is to give "valuable aid to the community in the alleviation of discrimination." It provides the framework to fulfill this function.

Six girls, members of our Color Guard, dressed in red, white, and blue, escort the flag to the stage during assemblies. This dignified and graceful ceremony contributes towards the respect shown for our flag.

FOOTBALL

Sportsmanship, determination, spirit, and courage can never be measured in the number of touchdowns scored or the number of victories collected. Some may wonder what drives boys to practice for hours, face the danger of being seriously injured, and experience heart-breaking defeat. The driving force is love; a tremendous love for football. For eight Saturday afternoons, the boys have the chance to satiate their desire to play by giving their utmost to the game. As Coach Tony Piazza says, at the time they are playing, football is the most important thing in the world to these boys. They don't hope to be heroes; they don't seek praise or acclaim. One victory makes up for all the defeats, and gives the football player everything he has worked for.

Soccer Team

SOCCER

Heads up! Hands off! Those are two major fundamentals of soccer, a game we inherited from England. Soccer is a fast-moving game; the players are constantly in motion. Teamwork is one of the most important aspects of the game: everything depends on it. With the aid of coach Woody Davis, captain Richie Miller and co-captain Mark Rothstein led the boys to many exciting victories throughout the season.

Tennis Team

TENNIS

Tennis courts have finally been constructed on school grounds for the Tennis Team, although the senior members of the team will not be able to enjoy them next year. The team, coached by Mr. Young, plays matches regularly, in the autumn, with other high schools in our league. Paul Epstein is the team's captain.

Tennis, an increasingly popular sport, is now a favorite activity at Long Beach High.

RIFLE

Praises for our unsung rifle team are long overdue. Without publicity and fanfare, these boys work relentlessly to develop their skills. A sure eye, a steady hand, concentration, and accuracy are imperative. Under the skillful guidance of Mr. Castelli and Captain Victor Cohen, the rifle team emerges with its well deserved victories.

WRESTLING

Wrestling Team

Suddenly your name is called and it's your turn . . . you slowly take that solitary walk to the end of the mat and you wait for what seems like an eternity, passing in a matter of seconds. You feel the endless, staring rows of eyes, some friendly, some hostile, and it dawns upon you that you're all alone. You can't let them down—your coach, your team, your school, and even yourself—so you begin. When it's all over, whether you've emerged victorious or defeated, you know you've really tried . . . and you've really won after all . . .

This year, the Long Beach Wrestling Team has succeeded—not only in building this fine sense of character and accomplishment, but in achieving a victorious season.

BASKETBALL

The gym is packed with an over-flowing crowd . . . people are shivering outside in the icy weather, hoping to be admitted, eagerly awaiting the outcome . . . there goes Long Beach dribbling down the court, and the Marines let loose with one of their patented jump shots . . . once again the Long Beach Marines are victorious. This scene has been repeated many times during the basketball season. Our basketball team, a group of skilled and determined boys, coached by Mr. Gene Farry, played enthusiastically throughout the season. Their "never-die" spirit and play drew many eager fans who took pride in their team, their record, and their school. The Long Beach Quintet this year has released the true meaning of school spirit within the student body. Through their winning ways and fine efforts on and off the court, they managed to put Long Beach in the position to hold its own with the best teams in its division.

SWIMMING

Swimming Team

Swimming is an art as well as a sport—Involving coordination, endurance, strength, and precision. The boys on the Swimming team devote so much of their time, their energy, and their enthusiasm to mastering the skills. Under the direction of Coach Woody Davis and Captain Elliot Hoffman, the boys "work out" several hours a day, pushing themselves to the point of exhaustion.

In addition to speed, style, and team spirit, each boy must develop self-confidence, for, from the moment the gun sounds until he touches the finish line, the swimmer is alone. The reward for all his effort and devotion is victory—but more than that, it is a deep sense of personal accomplishment and satisfaction.

BASEBALL

Baseball Team

With the advent of spring, the baseball players appear across the land after their winter hibernation. Though the weather may still be chilly, the eager baseball players are out on the not-yet green diamond. Then the regular schedule commences and the fun turns to very hard work which the team relishes. Under the coaching of Mr. Gene Farry, the team members wear the name of Long Beach High School proudly. This year, Billy Crystal captained our Varsity baseball team.

LACROSSE

Lacrosse Team

Lacrosse is one of the few games in which the individual players have the opportunity to think for themselves. At some time in every game, each player becomes the master of a particular situation. To become a good lacrosse player, two items are important: expert stick handling and a thorough knowledge of the game. Lacrosse combines the beauty of team work with the thrill of individual skill. It contains the ruggedness of football, the speed of basketball, the endurance of a long-distance runner, and the finesse and skill of hockey. Although our team is comparatively new, Coach Tony Piazza has great hopes of it developing quickly.

Cross Country Team

Long distance races, high jumping, shot put, and sprints comprise the agenda for the exciting Track and Cross Country meets. Both sports, coached by Mr. Irving Gold, demand endurance, coordination, and many hours of hard practice. Under captains Doug Hausman and John Candelaria, the newly formed Cross Country team enjoyed the best season since its formation. The Track team captained by Doug Hausman, has always been one of Long Beach's most popular and most successful activities.

TRACK AND CROSS COUNTRY

GOLF

Golf Team

The "gentleman's game" is one of the new sports at Long Beach High. Competitive golf has recently become a popular and important activity. The team played at the Lido Golf Club under the coaching of Mr. Leonard Remo. Seniors who played this year are Steve Lazar and Charles Forscher.

BOWLING

Bowling Team

Four quick paces, the parabolic release of a sixteen pound spherical object and a ferocious roar comprise the steps to Bowling, one of the nation's most popular indoor sports. LBHS's keglers knock down many hundreds of pins in the course of their scheduled matches. Mrs. Rhoda Grabelsky is the coach of the team which is captained by Stuart Fisher.

CHEERLEADERS

Varsity Cheerleader

Under the leadership and choreography of Helene Reitman, a Long Beach High School Senior, the Marinettes performed with grace and precision, at each home football game. The girls helped to make Saturday afternoon a pleasant and enjoyable day with their simultaneous, feminine kicks and jumps. As evidenced by the performances of these girls, Long Beach High can add another successful activity to the varied skills taught by our Physical Education Department.

Above the roar of the crowd at football games and amidst the tense excitement of basketball games, the voices of the L.B.H.S. Cheerleaders can be heard. These girls with their enthusiasm and spirit lead our student body supporting and boosting the morale of our teams. Victory is achieved not only through the efforts of the players but also by the spirit backing them. In many cases the amount of spirit is insufficient to satisfy the demand of a fighting team. This is where the job of the cheerleaders begins—and this is where they have been successful.

The Cheerleaders of the 1964-65 season were chosen on the basis of many requirements and have had to meet many criteria—among them: skill, voice, and attitude. Coached by Mrs. Adeline Quinn, this year's squad was captained by Phyllis Ostrov and Rosemarie Barrera.

petition on their various athletic teams, their female counterparts engage in a phase of the athletic program—L.I.G.A. It is here that girls compete both in intramural and inter-scholastic activities such as volleyball, basketball, swimming, field hockey, soccer, bowling, and color war, a sport night in which girls compete for points in athletic games, modern dance, and originality. This year the Long Beach High School Girls' Swimming Team managed to secure the Championship trophy for being the best in their league. All of these activities have indeed generated a strong feeling of self-satisfaction and achievement among the girls who have participated.

One of man's major personal goals throughout history has been to achieve "a sound mind in a sound body." This need for a program of physical fitness has been accentuated by our late president, John F. Kennedy, who understood its importance. Long Beach High School has not only provided excellent academic opportunities, but also athletic activities, which are both healthful and enjoyable.

Library staff

Pausing at the library door, a Long Beach High School student yells a friendly greeting across the room. The industrious scholars look up, shocked! Horrified, he realizes that he has broken the studious silence, and in mortal shame, shrinkingly slinks away.

Seriously though, our excellent librarians maintain a relaxed atmosphere that is conducive to studying. Efficiently and helpfully, they have prepared students for individual, independent research by acquainting them with library resources. They have also encouraged and stimulated students to develop a search for knowledge through the all-encompassing media of books.

is for READING

The Alphabet can be compared with the interchangeable parts of a machine. The letters are mixed, to form different words which perform a service. The service is communication. But we aren't able to take advantage of this service unless we are able to comprehend the meaning of the words involved. Two basic courses are offered at Long Beach which improve our reading skills. Speedreading concentrates on improving the vocabulary of the student and helping him to organize the ideas which enter his mind. The Reading Workshop covers the area of comprehension skills. The student is taught to retain ideas.

Our Reading Department deserves commendation for the extensive program that it offers.

A bell rings, a mob surges down the hallway, caught up in a mad dash to the lockers, to the exit, and wildly out of the building.

The noise, the pushing, the crowds, the flying debris—between periods, during lunch, in the locker-room, at dismissal . . .

In any normal society, this is a riot, but in Long Beach High, it's a routine.

The Cafeteria is jammed with students, yelling and laughing; books flying, intermingled with ice cream wrappers, milk containers, and peanut butter sandwiches . . .

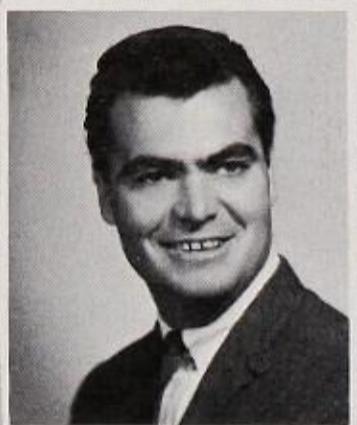

. . . a never ending mob scene . . . and we wouldn't have it any other way . . .

To be objectively aware of the world around us—past, present, and future—this is the goal set by the Social Studies Department for the students of Long Beach High School. Under the guidance of competent teachers, students study the history of the United States and the world. They are taught the fundamentals of Economics to be absorbed and later utilized in everyday adult life. Current events are approached, dissected, and evaluated by authoritative criticism, which is gathered through research and extensive reading. Because of our dire need today to be ever alert and informed, prepared to meet global problems, our Social Studies Department, under the leadership of Mr. Walrath, serves as a vital tool in the molding of well educated citizens of tomorrow.

DEBATING AND FORUM CLUB

The dictionary defines DEBATE as—"the discussion or examination of a question by considering arguments on both sides." The Debating Club carries on such discussions on both an intramural and interscholastic level. It also aids the student in public speaking, poise, and enables him to present intelligent arguments, always backed up by facts. Those who belong to this club will continue to reap benefits from their debating experiences long after their stay at Long Beach High School.

Controversial issues involving the future of the entire world have reached great heights in the present atomic age. It is perhaps only by observing and discussing these problems intelligently and open-mindedly that we can find wise and peaceful solutions. Debates concerning conflicting issues, and discussion of such focal points of the world interest as the Soviet Union and Vietnam are only some of the opportunities that the Forum Club offers to those students possessing an avid interest in expanding their knowledge and understanding of the world situations.

"Science is vastly more stimulating to the imagination than are the classics"—John Burden Haldane.

Classics—our tie to the past; science—our link to the future. Untouched fields, unimagined ideas, unthought of worlds will be opened to us at unbelievable speed. The classics are our source of history, of language, of ideas. For science they are steps leading to the unexplored. The conquering of outer space, the synthesis of life, the harnessing of the atom are but a fraction of the world unknown. The world unknown—waiting to be discovered. The youth of today—waiting to discover it. For many, the Science Department of Long Beach High School provides the first impetus, the first excitement, the first step toward tomorrow.

Members of Science Club, who are supervised by Mr. Stanger, have the opportunity to discuss scientific advancements, view films, and attend field trips to see various industrial laboratories and scientific exhibits. # SENIOR POLL

SENIOR PLAY

The Senior Play, The Mouse That Roared, presented in February, was a satire on American foreign policy and the Cold War. A tiny country, led by its young duchess and a simple woodsman, accidentally conquers the world by capturing the lethal Q bomb from the United States. In the words of the director, Mr. Burton Wolsky, "This was, I feel, one of the finest presentations I have been involved with in all my years at Long Beach High."

The main characters in this hilarious comedy hit were: Robert Nierman, Dan Aronzon, Davida Singerman, Jeff Weinberg, Jon Gold, Don Silverman, Ronald Gertz, Jon Kramer, Arlene Ross, Howie Goldstein, and Nancy Miller. The stage managers were Roberta London and Ellen Spier.

Dear Mr. Jeuman
Although my art ability is nil, it is a great experience working with a teacher who has a real passion for her art. I am so thankful for the opportunities she has given me. She has been one of the most reward-

I will always be grateful to her for her guidance and support. Her leadership and guidance made it so much more rewarding.
Most of all, I will always remember the fun we had in the classroom and the memories we made together.

is for VOCATION

Westbury Seniors

In recent years, Long Beach High School has been able to offer vocational training in cooperation with the Technical and Trade Center at Westbury. Students who take advantage of this opportunity are able to supplement their academic education with training in the technical and commercial fields. Approximately thirty Long Beach students have availed themselves of such courses as data processing, mechanical engineering, and beauty culture. Our vocational program provides the high school student with practical background and knowledge that he can apply immediately after graduation and in later life.

is also for AUDIO-VISUAL

Small details keep our school functioning. One of these small details, but a vital one, is performed by the Audio-visual squad. Whenever a play requires special sight or sound aids, the crews of the Audio-visual squad are called upon.

In addition, the squad helps to increase the knowledge and awareness of students through the many films they show in the classroom.

WORLDS FAIR

is for

The World's Fair is a manifestation of all that man has done, is doing, and will do. It celebrates man's achievements in a diversity of fields. However, more importantly, the World's Fair has provided a meeting place for many countries of the world. The public has derived much from the Fair, for it has afforded the public a chance to curiously visit some countries they would never have had the chance to visit otherwise. The World's Fair—a tribute to the world and its people.

If X is for Exams, then it also represents the extra energies that college-bound seniors exert in order to achieve that extra bit of excellence on the College Boards. It is an exasperating and exciting time for most of us, waiting to hear from the colleges, knowing a good score on the SAT's may expand college horizons for students whose averages are not extraordinary.

So when the excruciating day arrives, we nervously explore each example with agonizing exactitude. The exhausting experience ends at last, and we are again looking expectantly towards the future. Finally we hear from the colleges, and then we, with a more explicit idea of our immediate future, can exultantly relax and enjoy our graduation. After our exit from L.B.H.S., we'll look back nostalgically upon these years, always remembering the time when X stood for Exams.
